

Project Management 4

Use your full leadership potential as a project manager

At the end of the day, someone has to take the lead. Project Management 4 focuses attention on your leadership behaviour as a project manager and uncovers your development potential.

You will become aware of your strengths within project management based on concrete feedback from leaders, project participants and stakeholders/clients in your projects.

Project Management 4 clarifies what you should focus on to develop as a project manager and you will learn how to apply a broad repertoire of leadership styles.

You will improve your skills in the following areas

- Understanding 6 Leadership Styles (theory and practice)
- Understanding your own leadership behaviour based on your Project Leadership Profile 360° measurement
- Forming your own personal action plan
- Managing a number of leadership styles (6 Leadership Styles)
- Learning to use various tools and methods in your leadership
- Strengthening your leadership behaviour by studying specific project management case stories
- Learning to manage the steering committee, the project participants, the stakeholders and yourself

Benefits for your company

- A competent project manager
 - A project manager who is aware of their own behaviour
 - Projects with an impact in the organisation
 - Effective change processes

Course structure

Approximately six weeks before the course, you will undergo a Project Leadership Profile 360° measurement, which will mean that:

- You will receive an email with a link to the Project Leadership Profile 360° measurement
- You will nominate respondents and complete the survey within your organisation. You will need to nominate at least one and a maximum of two leader(s)/sponsor(s), at least three project group participants and possibly some stakeholders/clients

- You and your respondent group will receive a link with approx. 100 questions about your behaviour as a project manager. Both you and the respondent group will answer the same questions. The result is your 360° measurement
- You will receive a report with your 360° measurement and get feedback and spar with an experienced facilitator before the course begins
- On the course, we will aim to fulfil any wishes you have for additional learning

The replies will be kept confidential. In order for you to benefit as much as possible from the survey, it is important that you work seriously on your answers.

You will not be able to participate in this course if Mannaz does not receive sufficient responses to these questions by the deadline. In the event of that happening, you will lose the entire course fee.

6 Leadership Styles

During the course we will work with 6 Leadership Styles, which is a reflection tool designed to develop leaders' repertoire and self-confidence. The tool takes its starting point in six different leadership styles and how they each affect organisations.

The 6 Leadership Styles are also a blended learning tool that combines games, theoretical material, computer-based simulations and interactive challenges.

As a project leader, you can use 6 Leadership Styles as a learning tool that challenges you and your repertoire of leadership styles, your overview and the difference you make as a project manager in your organisation.
